

COOK & JAMES ATTORNEYS AT LAW

CRIMINAL LAW

At Cook & James, we believe that the criminal defense attorney is the last protector of our Bill of Rights. The role is essential to our justice system and it is with honor that we represent those accused of crimes and work to protect them. It is easier to accuse than it is to defend. When the might and the power of the state are against you, we will be there to stand in front and demand that they come through us first.

INITIAL MEETING

Your case is unique

What we need from you:

Everyone's case is different and requires careful preparation. The first step in handling your case is to meet with us to discuss your particular situation. The first hour consultation is free on all cases. In order to make the most of the consultation, we ask that you do the following in preparation for the meeting:

- Please write down or tape record the details of your case
- Make a list of questions you want answered, thus ensuring you leave with the answers you need.
- Bring all paperwork and materials directly related to your case with you, including but not limited to any police reports, court notices, citations, subpoenas.

What you can expect from us:

- We will review your case in detail with you. Afterwards, our team of criminal attorneys will meet and discuss the best strategies to win your case.
- We will contact you to go over our plan of attack. At that time you can decide if you wish to retain our services.

If you decide to hire our firm, our office will then gather all of the evidence needed to represent your case to the fullest. You can expect the following:

- Investigating your case
- Compiling legal research
- Working on courtroom strategies.
- Handling all the paper work necessary to move your case through the justice system.
- Working hard and doing everything possible to get you the results you desire.

At Cook & James, we believe our innovative approach to law will make you very happy. Competency is not linked to the rigid confines of typical law firms. They really have nothing to do with each other. Our success has proven that. We are not for everyone, but we aren't concerned with everyone. We just care about you.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW:

It costs the state a lot of money to try each criminal case. Therefore, they will often offer a plea bargain to a lesser charge to get a defendant to waive their right to a trial. By proceeding to the trial you are often facing the maximum sentence on all charges. You need an experienced attorney to help you navigate thru this complicated system and make the best decision for your individual case.
